Advice to Readers

The Metropolitan Pier and Exposition Authority (“MPEA” or the “Authority”) is pleased to present certain information concerning its outstanding bonds. Please keep in mind that information presented on this site only speaks as of the date it was posted or, if such information is dated, as of its date. The Authority does not undertake to continuously update materials posted on this site. Important events or developments after that date are not presented, and they can render dated information to be not useful or reliable. Other material that is not specifically dated also may not be current when you read it.

Where information is presented that has come from sources other than the Authority, the Authority only presents that information for convenience. The Authority does not undertake to verify any of that information. Links to other web sites similarly do not constitute any presentation by the Authority, and, of course, the Authority takes no responsibility for them.

The information on this site has not been prepared to give information for making decisions on buying or selling securities and should not be relied upon by investors in making investment decisions. With respect to any bonds, notes or other obligations of the Authority, please refer for information only to the Authority’s notifications of sale and the related disclosure documents, if any, or continuing disclosure filings, if any, for such bonds, notes or other obligations.

The purpose of this site is to provide general information about the debt service on certain outstanding bonds, notes or other obligations of the Authority. The information is provided for quick reference only. It is not a summary or a compilation of all information relevant to any particular financial transactions, bonds, notes or other obligations. It does not purport to include every item which may be of interest, nor does it purport to present full and fair disclosure with respect to any financial transactions, bonds, notes or other obligations within the meaning of applicable securities laws and regulations. There is no assurance that the information contained on this site does not contain typographical or other errors which may have occurred in converting the original source document or other source materials to electronic format. Investment decisions should be made only after full review of an official statement or other disclosure document and other relevant documents and matters in connection with a particular issue of bonds, notes or other obligations.

This site is part of the larger MPEA website; however, other parts of the Authority website are not part of this site containing disclosure regarding bonds issued by the Authority and should not be relied upon in that respect.

The Authority disclaims any responsibility or liability for any damage caused by viruses contained within the files on or referenced in this site.
